

Dear Sir:

It is important that children have QUALITY + NON-VIOLENT TV programs that will provide both EDUCATIONAL and INFORMATIVE needs of their most impressional needs.

PLEASE do what you can to increase these types of programs as the Children's Television Act mandates.

Honorable Reed Hundt,

I write with regard to children's programming for television.

More alternatives are needed for children & families on regular television which are informative, educational and positive.

Regular television fails to meet the intent of the Children's Television Act, 1991.

Television for children is not ready to meet the developmental needs of the Nation's youth. This popular media needs to be monitored so that the intent of the Children's Television Act is achieved.

Dear Mr. Hundt

I feel there is too much violence on T.V. There is enough violence in every day life without promoting it.
There is also too
much explicit sex
during prime time
T.V. This ~~is~~ combined with many other ~~issues~~ adding to the destruction of families & homes. Thus the destruction of a whole generation.

Thank you

Missouri PTA adopted in 1991 a resolution on Television Programming. We are appalled at the increased violence, sex and other unacceptable programming on T.V. that our children may be subjected to. There is a lack of quality children's programming.

Ann Lockwood, Missouri PTA, Corresponding Secretary, Raytown, Mo.

Dear Sir - The Children's Television Act of 1991 has not made the projected impact upon children's programming. Please protect the children's interest by enforcing all aspects of the law in regard to increased educational/recreational programming for children. Natick PTA supports this!

Dear Mr. Hanoff,

The "Children's TV Act" was passed 10 yrs ago. As of today the broadcasters are not showing any more children's programming than before the law.

As an advocate for children I demand the mediocre + violence in programming be addressed now!

Dear Mr. Hendt,

As a member of Potomac R.R. and New Mexico R.R., I would encourage you to be responsible for protecting the interests of children in the area of RR programming. Our children need opportunities to benefit from RR that educates and endangers rather than diminishes and destroys. Please keep our children's welfare in mind as you make decisions. For Texas

Mr. Hembel,

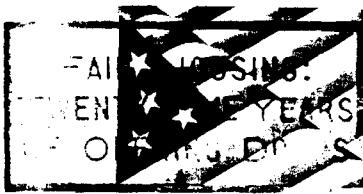

We are raising a generation of children that are becoming desensitized to violence because violence is common place on TV. The Children's Television Act of 1991 was enacted to improve television programming but no appreciable difference can be seen.

Parents must do their part to limit television viewing but educational & informational family programming is essential. I believe the FCC must do its part to ensure improved programming for children & families.

As a member of the ~~Bridgford~~ High School PTSA, Lambertville, Michigan ^{I believe} we must work together to improve TV programming.

Mr. Hendt,

Although none of us want more government control or involvement in our lives, I write to encourage you to enforce the Children's Television Act of 1991.

It is my deep concern that unless we act now to protect the children of this great nation our future will be one of violence & disregard for the ~~welfare~~ ^{rights} of others.

Please for the future of America, enforce this Act and help the possesto restore sanity in our neighborhood. Francis McLeod

I'm very sorry to say I don't believe that network television has anything of any value to offer our children. Many of the cablevision channels have some wonderful programs for family viewing. Networks may be surprised to find more viewers by taking some lessons from the cable channels. Thank you, Michele

I am PTA President of an elementary school in California. Our PTA is very concerned about the amount and type of TV programs many of our children are watching. We ~~deplore~~ the "family" shows featuring smart aleck kids who model talking back to their parents and teachers and putting down their friends. We recommend to our parents that they limit TV viewing because of TV violence, advertising and lack of educational programming. Finally, we support the efforts of the Federal government to ensure that there is an abundance of quality TV shows for our nation's young people.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Hundt,

As a parent of two children I am very concerned about the condition of programs that are shown daily on TV. The violence and lack of respect as seen on cartoons and other children's programs really concerns me. We can use this media as a means to educate our young ones and reinforce the positive characteristics that we are trying to instill in them daily. I ask for your help in improving the programming for children and to realize the urgency of this request. Thank you for your consideration in this matter. Mrs. Sheila Burbee

Dear Honorable Hundt,

As a parent of four children, I must let you know I am concerned about children's television programming.

While the Children's Television Act went into effect on October 1, 1991, current data shows that programming remains mediocre. As a country, we need to provide our children with better (and more) hours of excellent programming!!

To:

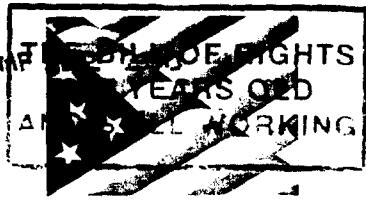

I am dissatisfied with the TV industry's unsatisfactory response to the Children's Television Act.

I ask you and the FCC to do what is required by law and thereby aid parents in protecting our children's interest.

Yours sincerely,

On October 1, 1991, the Children's Television Act went into effect. However there is still a lack of children programming on TV. Cartoons, and other programs are still violence. I am 17 years old. I am not a child but I have a younger brother. The cartoons he watches are so violent. I would like to see the programming change so that instead, he could see something educational or more family orientated. I believe that this would help with the attitudes of our children and young adults. Please help us to provide positive TV for our children. Amy Garrison

Chairman Hundt,

I am a parent who monitors what my children watch. Many nights the TV is not on because I will not allow them to watch the programs on. What happens to these children who have no one to tell them, "I'm sorry but I don't like that show and you can't watch it."

I am also a member of the National PTA and we strongly supported the ^{children's} television Act that went into effect Oct '91. However it has done very little to change the programs for TV. As a parent I ask you /the FCC to do what is required by law, in the interest of all children.

Thank you for caring for all children.

Dear Sir,

My family and I feel strongly that there is far too much violence on TV. We feel this so strongly we have removed the source of violence - the TV - from our home. Hopefully you can help regulate the programs aired so others who have unregulated TVs in their homes will damage the psyche of their children
as little as possible.

Members of F.C.C. & Mr. Hundt

Since the Children's T.V. act was made into law 1989, I have seen very little movement to have good children's programs more frequent & of quality. - Why such slow movement?
The legislature needs to be followed.
Parents need to take responsibility for T.V. viewing & the Broadcasters also need to be responsible.

Dear Chairman Hundt

I am 3rd Vice President of Florida PTA which has over 350,000 members. A PTA TV violence survey, conducted by Florida PTA parents around the state, showed clearly that parents care about what their children are watching and that there is too much violence on TV. Concern was also voiced over sex + dialect.

We are concerned that the Children's Television Act seems not to have produced an increase in children's programming as we had hoped.

The FCC must do what is required by law:
protect the children's interest in TV programming.
Please hold the TV industry responsible. Parents want
I need positive program alternatives to regular TV.

Sincerely, Sally Lee
